

McMAHON can provide Public Management to assist municipal organizations in improving the quality and efficiency of services delivered to their communities at their administrative and various organizational department levels.

Our experienced professionals possess in-depth knowledge of all relevant aspects of municipal operations including administration, communications, organization, labor relations, safety, economics and standards. This allows us to provide clients with an independent and objective analysis of the desired scope of work, so that the policy boards can make knowledgeable and informed decisions.

We provide on-site assistance for municipal administrations, working with them to manage issues, making recommendations and helping to implement those recommendations, as opposed to receiving results from an organizational study that provides extensive recommendations with no resource or support to implement them.

McMAHON can provide municipalities the following Public Management services:

- Public Administration Services
- Public Works Management
- Parks, Recreation and Facilities Management
- Management Counsel
